WILL AMEND STATE CHILD LABOR LAWS

Dr. Flannagan Will Soon Present Bill to General Assembly.

NEED CERTIFICATES.

Proposed Measur e Would Make Necessary Stronger Evidence of Age Limit For Night Work.

Richmond, Va, Jan. 9.—The Virginia child labor committee of which Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, of Richmond, state superintendent of health, is chairman, expects shortly to present to the legislature a bill for the better protection to Virginia children.

There seems to be pretty general agreement among those who know the child labor situation in Virginia, that the purpose of the present child labor law is defeated by the weakness of its provisions. The experience of R. Randolph Jones, superintendent of schools in Petersburg, and of other superintendents, who tell the same story, is believed to be typical of the State. Mr. Jones finds that children under fourteen frequently "play hookey" from school in order to work, especially textile mills and tobacco factories.

It is also common, he says, for the smaller children to carry lunch to workers in the tobacco factories and to "help" with the work during their elders' lunch hour. Teachers who go to the factories to look for truant pupils often find one whose age on the school record is ten or twelve years entered among the wage-earners as fourteen years old.

Therefore R. C. Stearnes, State superintendent of education, said the school men throughout the state are especially interested in the child labor committee's proposal that no child be allowed to work until he has obtained a work permit based on definite documentary proof of age. They agree with the child labor committee that without such a provision the fourteen year age limit cannot be enforced.

James B. Doherty, commissioner of labor, officers of the Danville cotton mills, Howard G. Colvin, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, and the Rev. Dr. Steinmetz, of the Episcopal Social Service Commission of Southern Virginia are among those who have expressed themselves strongly in favor of abolishing the present exemptions which in another way will nullify the fourteen-year age limit for those very children who most need the protection of the law.

They agree with Dr. Flannagan and other members of the Virginia child labor committee that it is not civilized for society to allow young children to bear the economic burden of a destitute family. This view is held by persons who are held in closest touch with the problem of relief and the Associated Charities of Lynchburg was one of the first organizations to endorse the child labor committee's bill.

The committee proposes certain other equally important amendments, such as extending the fourteen year age limit to include other common occupations not now regulated by any law, raising the limit for night work from fourteen years to sixteen, a provision now in force in thirty-three states and the District of Columbia, and limiting the working day of children under sixteen years.

Mr. J. Matthews is confined to his home on Prince street, by sickness.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Cardinal Deacon Cagiano Azevedeo has tentatively been selected by Pope Pius X as the successor of the late Cardinal Rampolla, archpriest of the Vatican bascilica.

Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, former governor of Kentucky, and candidate for Vice President on the gold Democratic national ticket in 1896, died yesterday at his home in Lexington, Ky. Simon Bolivar Buckner was born on a farm in Hart county, Ky., April 1, 1823. He was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1844. At the beginning of the civil war he was made brigadier general in the Confederate army, and rose to the rank of lieutenant general in 1864. He was governor of Kentucky from 1887 to 1891 and a member of the Kentucky constitutional convention in the latter year.

With a Bible clasped in her hands and finger marks on her throat, the body of a well-dressed woman was taken yesterday from the waters of the Harlem river in New York. The body had been in the water only a few hours. Bible was expensively bound. It was one published in Stockholm, and on the fly leaf was the inscription, "Anna Marie Lundberg, May 20, 1907." In the woman's purse was a fine lace handkerchief, with the initial "L" embroidered in one corner, and a lock of hair, apparently clipped from the head of a child. The woman was about 30 years old. Her features showed refinement, and her carefully tended hands proved her unused to hard work Her hair hung in a single, heavy, golden brown braid almost to her heels. The clothing of the woman was of expensive quality and stylish cut.

United States naval designers have in preparations plans for a battleship so vast in size that even the term "dreadnaught" will be insufficient to describe her. She will be, if authorized, 6,500 tons larger than any warship now being built anywhere in the world. The principal dimensions of the proposed vessel are: length, 750 feet; breadth, 100 feet; draft, 2 feet 6 inches; displacement, 3,600 tons; armament, 12 -4-inch guns and 21 6-inch guns; thickness of belt armor, 17 inches; thickness of barbette armour, 16 inches, total cost of vessel $21,000,000.

People of western France were startled last night by the passing of an enormous meteor, which was first seen at Tours. The phenomenon took the form of an immense train of intense white flames, rushing across the sky at terrific speed. It was accompanied by frequent and deafening explosions, which broke windows. It was also observed at Montlucon, Chelet, and other places, and appears to have fallen into the sea beyond Papol, on the English Channel, causing disturbances in that district which were mistaken for an earthquake.

David Hillhouse Buell, former president of Georgetown University, who left the Jesuits and married, has sent his wife to a Catholic home and he has secluded himself in the Trappist monastery at Gethsemane, near Bardstown, Ky. The trappist maintain among themselves a silence that is broken only by religious chants, and the morning greeting, "Memento mori," meaning "remember death." Eeach day they remove a little of the dirt from the hole that is to be their grave.

Because Charles P. Webber, 64 years old, of Brokoline, Mas., hugged Mrs. Harriet E. Lamberton, 62 years old, he will have to pay $13,500. Mrs. Lamberton brought suit to recover for injuries sustained while at the Webber home in Brookline, alleging that on January 18, 1903, she was embraced by Mr. Webber, and in trying to elude him fell down stairs and broke her leg. Mrs. Lamberton died on June 11, 1913, and the suit was prosecuted by her daughter.

MAY REDUCE TAX RATE.

Finance Committee Likely to Make Recommendation to Legislature.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 9.—It has become known that the Senate finance committee, in session here framing the general appropration bill, has been seriously discussing the advisability of recommnding a reduction of 5 cents in the tax rate. It is also positively stated that there has been no discussion of the proposition to make any increase whatever, in the tax rate in case the people of Virginia determine to vote liquor away.

There is, according to one of the safest of the members of the Senate, no intention of creating a reserve fund with which to meet the possible deficiency because of the loss of the liquor revenue. The general question of taxation and other matters came up in the consideration of the appropriations asked by the several State institutions, and all at once the suggestion was made that it would be better to deny some of the increases and to make a reduction in the tax rate, letting the people get a bit of the prosperity of the State by lessening their burdens of taxation.

It is believed that if the appropriations are kept within the estimates the tax rate can be reduced and a smal emergency balance left for next year the reassessment of lands wll be made, and it is believed that the increase from this source will not only offset the reduction in rate but that there will follow an increase in taxes that will put the treasury in the position of being able to make proper provision for some of the institutions which are demanding money in sums aggregating more than $2,000,000 in excess of the estimated revenues of the State.

POPE BLESSES CHURCH.

$500,000 Structure of St. Jean Baptiste Built by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan.

New York, Jan. 2.—Pope Pius X sent his blessing, and bishops and priests from this country and Canada took part a day or two ago in the dedication of the new Church of St. Jean Baptiste, at 76th street and Lexington Avenue, built by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, for the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament at a cost of $500,000. The edifice is not finished, but will be used while artists are decorating the interior. The work and the furnishings which will be in accord with the architectural beauty of the structure, is expected to bring the total close to a million dollars.

The ceremony of dedication was performed by Cardinal Farley, assisted by Apxiliary Bishop Cusack, of this city; Bishop Maes, of Covington, Ky.; Bishop Colton, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Bishop Gauthert, of Montreal, Can.; and Bshop Forbes, of Joliette, Can. Bishop Maes celebrated the pontifical mass which followed the dedication. Cardinal Farley made a brief address, during which he praised the Ryan family for their generosity and then imparted the papal benediction.

In the afternoon Bishop Colton was the celebrant of solemn vespers. The ceremones were concluded with solemn benediction in the evening by Bishop Forbes, of Joliette.

The famous relic of St. Anne has been transferred to a new shrine in the church. The Architect, of St Jean Baptiste was N. Serracino; the pastor is the Rev. A.Leteller. The Ryan family was represented at the dedicstion by Mrs. Allan Ryan.

Pictures of the new church show to be strikingly similar in general architectural appearance to the Sacre Heart Cathedral, in Richmond, which was the gift of the Ryans. The cost is about the same.

DANVILLE MAN IS SUICIDE.

Albert F. Chatelain Fires Bullet Into His Brain.

Danville, Va., Jan. 9.—Albert F. Chatelain, one of Danville's best-known citizens and for many years engaged in the mercantile business here, committed suicide Tuesday, in the rear part of his brother's store on Holbrook street, by firing a bullet into his right temple. Mr. Chatelain had been in ill health for some time, and had on several occasions threatened to end his life. Hearing the report of the weapon, his brother, who was in the front of the store, rushed to his side, but he never spoke, death being instantaneous.

TRIO OF SWINDLERS OBTAIN $1,000,000

"Bankrupt Trust" Nabbed In Philadelphia After Six Years' Career.

FOOL MANY EXPERTS.

Secured Large Consignments of Goods Fraudulently From Different Parts of the Country.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 9. — How three young men swindled manufacturers, importers and jobbers out of a million dollars in six years by obtaining goods in at least 25 cities and then suddenly leaving town, was the amazing tale unfolded yesterday by Chief Postal Inspector Cortelyou, after the three men had been held in $32,00 aggregate bail by United States Commissioner Edmunds for a further hearing on January 19.

The alleged members of the "bankrupt trust" are Charles H. Greenfield, 32 years old, Samuel Brown, 26 years old, and Meyer Rotman, 33 years old. Greenfield, who is said to be the brains of the combinations, was held in $12,00 bal and the other two in $10,000 bail each. They were unable to furnish bail and were sent to Moyamensing prison.

The three leaders are said to have accomplices all over the country, to whom they sell the goods they get on credit or send them to be sold. Postal inspectors have been on the trail of these "fences", and yesterday in Baltimore, Inspectors Smith and Nicholls, of Philadelphia, accompanied by C. D. West, of St. Louis Credit Men's Association, entered the store of A. J. Steinhardt and arrested Abram Corek, whom they brought to Philadelphia last night. Steinhardt is reported to have left the city immediately after the arrest of the three alleged leaders became known. A number of empty boxes which had contained merchandise was found in the store.

The specific charge against the three men is using the mails to defraud, and the action is based upon only one of their transactions, which took place in St. Louis. Operating as the Great Western Jobbing House, in St. Louis, it is charged, the three men obtained goods valued at $250,-00 from Eastern manufacturers, sold the goods, placed the money in their pockets and then left St. Louis without paying their bills.

FIND JERSEY ELOPERS.

J. M. Foster And His Pretty Stenographer Arrested in Mobile.

Pemberton, N. J., Jan. 9.—When it became known here yesterday that J. M. Foster, lately manager of the immense poultry farm at Brown's Mills-in-The-Pines, and Miss Delilah Bradley, his young stenographer, had been arrested in Mobile, there were deep mutterings against Foster and threats of treating him to tar and feathers if he should come back. The couple disappeared a few days before Chrstmas, Foster leaving a wife and two small children behind. Miss Bradley is a member of an estimable family, and all the residents here place the blame for her departure upon Foster. The man will find that he is in a serious predicament, as his arrest was made under the Mann White Slave act, Government agents having been placed on his trail and tracing him to Mobile. He is 45 years old, and the girl but 19.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 9.—The arrest of "Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster, of New York," at one of the most prominent hotels here and their admission that they were the eloping couple from New Jersey, caused a big ripple of surprise. The pair had cut a wide swath at the hotel and were accepted by some of the best people of the city.

EJECTED ALIEN NAKED.

Muddled Passenger Leaps From Trestle to Creek.

Catawissa, Pa., Jan. 9. —Naked and leaning against a Pennsylvania railroad telegraph pole, with his saturated and frozen clothes at his feet, young Stephen Gravichak, of Cleveland, was found Wednesday night, almost unconscious from exposure.

He said he had been enroute to visit a brother at Edwardsville, near Wilkesbarre, but at South Danville, 10 miles below where he was found, he has been put off the train, because he could not make the conductor understand that he wished to pay cash and had no ticket.

Bewildered and friendless, he started to walk, and was on a trestle when a train came along, when he sprang into Catawissa Creek, a sheer leap of 35 feet, and, when he crawled out, stripped off his wet clothes, thinking to get warm.

His clothing was of good quality. He had a considerable sum of money and carried a gold watch.

REBELS READY TO ATTACK OJINAGO

Villa Announces Readiness to Lead Followers Into Besieged City.

U. S. NAVY ON WATCH.

Constitutionalist Has Joined Forces With Herrara, and Ortega, and Now Has 9,000 Men to Renew Siege.

Presidio, Tex., Jan. 9.—Escorted by 2,500 troops under General Huerta, General Pancho Villa early today reached a point south of Ojinaga and effected a junction with the rebel army under General Ortega. He brought many wagon trains of provisions and ammunition, and half a dozen big guns.

Villia immediately took command of the besiegers and indicated he would order the attack on Ojinaga resumed before night. With his own and Huerta's troops and those under Ortega, Villa wil lhave 9,000 soldiers. This shou d be sufficient to overwhelm the federal garrison now cooped in Ojinaga or awaiting in the trenches at the base of the hill on which the town is situated.

The presence of Villa inspired the army with renewed confidence, and some of the higher officers predicted that they would dine in Ojinaga Saturday night. Villa brought word that several wagon trains of ammunition are coming down the Rio Grande from Juarez, and should reach the rebel camp by Saturday.

Despite the overwhelmingly superior force of the enemy, the 4,000 federal defenders at Ojinaga are far from discouraged.

Their showing in the recent eight days' battle has given them new courage, and Gen. Pascual Orozco today declared that during the five-days respite his men had put their defense in better condition than ever. It will take more than 9,000 rebels to carry the works, said Orozco.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Within two weeks almost the entire navel and marine corps strength of the United States will be concentrated within striking distance of Mexico. Five of the biggest ships of the navy will be set forth from the yards on the Atlantic Coast Saturday morning and sail southward to Culebra. For a period of six weeks they will cruise about Porto Rico and Cuba, co-operating in maneuvers with a force of 2.000 marinens,or all marines-available for such duty on the Atlantic coast. Within a few days, should they be needed, the ships and marines are to move to Mexico.

AVIATOR SMASHES ROOF.

Dive of 1,000 Feet Ends In Plunge Into Tile Factory.

Paris, Jan. 9.—Eugene Gilbert, the French aviator, narrowly escaped death or serious injury while flying over Paris yesterday, when he descended on a roof, through which his aeroplane broke and was wrecked.

Gilbert was making a trial trip in a new army monoplane, carrying a heavy load with which he had ascended from the aerodrome at Issy-Les-Molineux. He fled to Paris where he circled the Eiffel Tower at a height of 1,000 feet. He then shut off his motor in preparation for a glide to earth.

The aeriplane descended so rapidly that the aviator found he would be unable to avoid the buildings, and, as he could not restrain his motor, he picked out the most promising landing place, the roof of the tile factory in the southwestern suburb of Grenelle.

The cabaret ball evening given at the Elks' Hall under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society proved a most artistic success. The committee on arrangements should be congratulated upon the well arranged details and the enjoyable affair was to all who attended. The menu of various kinds of sandwiches and salad was served by the little Dutch maids who had previously spotted "Mr. Schneider," out of the audience in their catchy song soloed by Miss Kathryn Brill, whose sweet voice always gives pleasure.

The dainty French maids, vied in popularity with the Dutch lasses and disposed of much soda and many ices at the tables which were crowded to their utmost.

One could truly say the poetry of motion was the number Miss Christine Waggaman with both of her efficient partners gave to the onlookers. A group of esthetic dances was given by Miss Anderson, of Washington. The awakening of Pan with his pipes of never dying echo, the sea shell with its marvellous retentive power of ocean rolling sound, also the fairy on the cob-web were artistically portrayed by the dancer. Mr. George Evans generously allowed the audience a peep at his more than fair harem beauties and Rosy, Posy, Josie, Annie, Fannie, Jennie, in fact, the whole bunch were there in their Sunday togs. In spite of the fact that one of the Yama-Yama girls, "took a chance," for fifteen cents on getting over from Washington, she arrived on the scene in time with her partner, Miss Edith Pleasanton, of Philadelphia, to captivate the audience with their "bobbin up and down." Their apropo remarks concerning the members of the City Council were received most enthusastically.

Miss Beatty [illegible] not only with her encircling bands of confetti, her hearers, but also with her charmingly rendered song, and magnanimously gave her secret away as to method:

"Flatter him, whether tall or slim,— He's made of vanity!"

After the programme of songs and dances, the tables were removed, and the guests tangoed, hesitated, trotted and fish-walked until the stroke of midnight.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

LAWYER DISBARRED.

W. W. Kelly, Roanoke Attorney, Cannot Practice in Virginia.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 9.—In a verbal opinion delivered before the Roanoke bar prior to calendar call Wednesday morning, Judge W. R. Staples, in Corporation Court, passed on the case of the Roanoke Bar Association against W. W. Kelly by barring him from further practice in Virginia courts. The case has been in the courts since early this year.

Kelly was charged by the Bar Association with irregularities growing out of the dealing with a Lynchburg client. It was said that Kelly, in the capacity of an attorney, accepted certain bills for collection. The money it was contended, was collected in due course, but Kelly failed to make proper return and the matter was taken up with the Bar Association by commercial interests in Lynchburg.

ESCAPE DEATH IN SNOW.

Heaviest Drift Ever Known in Blue Ridge Causes Untold Suffering.

Hillsville, Va., Jan. 9.—Heavy snow throughout the Blue Ridge Mountain section both in Virginia and North Carolina has caused great suffering since last Saturday. All along the North Carolina-Virginia border and in the vicinity of Mt. Airy the heaviest snow storm ever known among the mountaineers fell this week and is causing untold hardships and has cut off all comunication with the section.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Richardson, who passed through Low Gap Tuesday, were caught in the drifts of depths of ten and twelve feet and narrowly escaped losing their lives. They were coming from the other side of the Blue Ridge in a one-horse wagon. Their mule got beyond his deth ir the snow and they were forced to leave the wagon, with difficulty, saving themselves and the mule while the wagon sank out of sight.

Several times Mr. and Mrs. Richardson got beyond their depth and came near frezeing, but finally succeeded in reaching their home near Mount Airy. Other narrow escapes from death in the snow have been reported here.

WANTS FOR MUNICIPAL FARM.

Wil Ask Council for $25,000 for Conservation of Drinkers.

Richmond, Jan. 9.—Comissioner John Hirshberg, of the administrative board, has directed Clerk W. W. Dunsford to draw up a resolution calling for the appropriation of $25,000 for the establishmment of a municipal farm, if the city council deems the farm a proper investment.

The municipal farm will be for the unemployed who are likely to be sentenced to jail or the rock pile as vagrants, for dipsomaniacs and other unfortunates who may be worth conserving.

It will not be a poor farm in the ordinary sense of the word but a municipal enterprise for the reformation and regeneration of men who are victims of habit and circumstances. Commissioner Hirshbery says.

The $25,000 he asks as an appropriation is toward the working out of his philanthropic scheme. After that he would have the farm sustained by the city, its products to be used in city hsopitals and places of detention for prisoners. He would not sell the products in open market to compete with farmers, but dispose of them in the city institutions.

Governor Grants Respite.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 9.—Acting under a certification of the penitentiary surgeone to the effect that John Bell, a negro, sentenced to die in the electric chair today, was insane, Governor Mann yesterday respited the doomed prisoner until February 10, that his conditon of mind might more thoroughly be gone into.

Bell was convicted of a capital crime in Norfolk county and sentenced to die some months ago. Since that time he has more than once been respited. The action of the governor will probably be final and the hope of Bell would now appear to rest in the findings of the commisson of lunacy which will probably soon sit in his case.

PLAN MONUMENT TO ANDREW JACKSON.

On the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, formal steps to erect a monument to Andrew Jackson, its hero, were taken at a banquet given last night at the Hermitage Club, in Nashville, Tenn. The banquet was attended by 150 representative men, coming from many states, and including in its personnel both Republicans and Democrats.

The monument is to be erected in Nashville, twelve miles distant from the "Hermitage," where President Jackson lived and where his body is buried.

We live in a "monument" age and effigies of men are occasionally encountered, who, while in the flesh had there been anything in them above the average, they must have kept their lights under bushels. The old fable of Mercury coming down to earth in disguise to see what men thought of him is often brought to mind. The fleet-footed messenger of the gods is represented as entering a sculptor's shop and, after having examined effigies of Jupiter Venus, Minerva, and others, he picked up a representation of himself and inquired its price. The sculptor said "if you will purchase either of the others I will thrown that in the bargain." The above tells the story of statues and busts of many.

All readers of the life of Andrew Jackson, whether political foes or friends, must become convinced that "Old Hickory" was far above the average man, and he appeared in American history at a time such a leader was needed. He served as a soldier when but thirteen years of age, and against tremendous odds, fought himself into the position of chief magistrate of the nation.

Fearless and honest in his convictions, he unflinchingly stood by his guns through life and left a record which few have equalled and none have excelled.

While not bombastic nor carrying chips on his shoulder, it was his fate to become involved in many conflicts, some of a serious nature, and while condemned in certain quarters of the time, since the smoke incident to his troubulous days has been blown away, Jackson shines forth as he should.

He was politically and martially an Achilles of the United States, and a monument to his memory is in order.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

Editor The Gazette:

I have read with a feeling of dismay that Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans has determined to plant two cannon in the little plot that surrounds the Confederate monument at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets. Surely our venerable and venerated friends of the camp have not considered this matter from any point of view except disposing of the cannon. Our Confederate monument stands today—and should stand forever—one of the most artistic single bronze figures in the world. To place cannon or anything else at the base of it would be like an effort to paint the lily, and would strip it of all the sublime sentiment now embodied in that single figure. The writer does not shudder at the idea of cannon and cannon balls as reminders of the great struggle—we see them all around us, at Arlington, in Washington and elsewhere—but he feels sure that some consideration is given the artistic side of the matter before these displays are made. The writer does not wish to offend Lee Camp with the criticism of a doubtless hasty decision, and further hopes that this suggestion may be taken in the kindly spirit in which it is written. Lee Camp Hall is an imposing building; could not these cannon be mounted at the entrance in such manner as to add to the attractiveness of that structure. If not, place them anywhere to decorate the city but do not desecrate the monument with any such frills.

EARNEST.

SAY HE HIRED ALIEN TO KILL.

Slain Man's Money Gone When Body Was Found After $30 Offer.

Berwick, Pa., Jan. 9.—That William Lechtenfeld, whose body was found riddled with bullets in Briar Creek township, December 19, paid $30 for his own murder, is the conclusion announced today by officers who have been working for weeks on the case. Lechtenfeld, moorse, furnished the revolver, which he borrowed from another, and he bought the cartridges that were to penetrate his own body. He then hired the assassin to commit the deed and stood in the bushes while the fellow aimed and fired—this is their theory.

To prove this the State Constabulary has an amazing array of evidence. A motive for murder was lacking from the first. There was every indication of suicide, with the possibility of it. He had threatened suicide by poisoning and shooting, but feared doing so, because he believed his soul would be condemned.

In a saloon he offered money to a man to kill him, and it has been established that he left the saloon with a strange foreigner, although nothing was thought of it at the time.

CUTS HIS THROAT AND DIES.

Out of Work, Man Ends His Life in Neighbor's Yard.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 9.—Alfred Jefferson, 45 years old, of No. 440 W. Ontario street, ended his life early yesterday morning in a shed in the rear of No. 1033 Sarah street, by cutting his throat with a butcherknife. His body was found by Edward Walsh, of the Sarah street address, who notified the police of both the Tenth and Eleventh districts. When the body was taken to the morgue 26 cents was found in the clothing, with a card signed by the police surgeon of the Fifth District, for admission to the Philadelphia Hospital. Jefferson had been locked up Tuesday night on the charge of vagrancy, but was discharged, and later was examined by the doctor. Theodore Krise, who keeps a boarding house at the Ontario street address, said that Jefferson had boarded there for the last five weeks but was out of work. The man had given Krise an insurance policy on his life, and this will be used to defray the funeral expenses.

Jefferson was unmarried. He is said to have relatives in Delaware.

Saved in Alpine Blizzard.

Five English alpinists, including a girl and a boy, were found yesterday, almost frozen, in a snow hut near the summit of the Dole, one of the highest peaks of the Swiss Jura.

The condition of the tourists was serious, but they were transported on sledges to a hotel and will probably recover.

Attempts Assault.

Forced at the point of a revolver to accompany a masked man to a lonely spot near Georgia Avenue, Washington, and Butternut street, Miss Grace Meline, 26 years old, of 106 Second street, northwest, who is employed at the Walter Rede Hospital, was the victim of a daring attempted assault.

Miss Meline says she was walking in Georgia Avenue, near Butternut street, Wednesday evening, when a masked man stepped in front of her, pointed a revolver at her and compelled her to walk to a secluded part of the road. The man then grabbed her, but she broke away from him, she says, and fled. He did not attempt to follow her or use the revolver. A handkerchief, which the man had fastened over his face concealed his features.

MARTHA WASHINGTON WILL.

Governor Will Ask Morgan to Return Instrument.

The bill to authorize the institution of proper proceedings in the name of the Commonwealth of Virginia to enforce the return to it of the original will of Martha Washington has been drawn, and will be presented by State Senator R. E. Thornton, of Fairfax county, next week, when the Virginia Legislature meets in Richmond.

"This is no bigger a county matter," says Senator Thornton. "The entire State is interested. We never knew positively that J. P. Morgan had the will of Martha Washington until he wrote a letter of December 8th came to Mrs. John S. Barbour, president of the Falls Church Chapter of the American Revolution.

"The people of Fairfax cannot believe that Mr. Morgan fully realizes what he is doing when he refuses to return the will when he knows just how it disappeared from the files of the county. There is no doubt about the theft of the document, which does not belong to a private citizen but to the county of Fairfax.

"My bill is ready, and I believe that it will get a unanimous vote, and that the State of Virginia will win its suit in the Supreme Court of the United States. Somehow I feel that when Mr. Morgan stops to think seriously of his attitude in this matter he will do the right thing and restore the will.

"Under the statutes of Virginia original wills must be filed and preserved in the courthouse where the will is recorded. The Martha Washington will was properly filed. During the bitter days of the Civil War somebody stole the will from the clerk of the court's office. For years it did not know where it was, but now we know that it is in the library of J. P. Morgan. From whom he secured it we cannot say. His letter to Mrs. Barbour is proof that he has it.

"Mr. Thornton's resolution provides that the Governor of Virginia shall first make a demand on Mr. Morgan for the return of the will, and, if his efforts, suit for its recovery shall be brought by Virginia.

Mr. C. Vernon Ford, Commonwealth's Attorney for Fairfax county will assist the Attorney General to prosecute the suit.

"I have not the least doubt that we will get back the Martha Washington will," said Mr. Ford today. "We are positive that it is in the possession of Mr. Morgan.

"Five or six years ago R. Walton Moore asked me if I knew where the Martha Washington will was, and when I told him that I did not know he said he had been informed it was in J. Pierpont Morgan's library. He thought it advisable for me, as attorney for the Commonwealth, to undertake to get the will. I went before the supervisors of the county and informed them of what I had heard and asked for instructions.

"I was appointed a committee to go to New York and see Mr. Morgan and given authority and directed to demand that I should not recover the paper without taking such a step. I was directed to take F. W. Richardson, clerk of Fairfax county, with me to identify that the will belonged to his office. I wrote one or two letters—in the utmost positive—to Mr. Morgan, but never received any answer to them. If Mr. Morgan received the letters, and they must have, as this office, for they never came to me, he ignored them.

"I was informed by whom I cannot recall, that Mr. Morgan considered the will a command of war common law—and would not return it to Virginia, where it belonged.

"Mr. Richardson and I talked over and decided that it would cost the county about $1,000 to make a fight to retain the will by institution proceedings against Mr. Morgan in New York or elsewhere. We felt that with his millions of dollars he could break Fairfax county if we sued him. We concluded to let the matter rest for a time at least. As the county had no money to spare at that time we were forced to give up.

"Last fall the Falls Church Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution began where we left off. Mrs. Barbour was instructed to write to the present Morgan. Mrs. Barbour did so and was told that Mr. Morgan could not return the will."

Mrs. Barbour, one of the leaders in society women of Virginia and a kinswoman of Secretary of State William J. Bryan, said that she is acting for her chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution of the entire State will support Senator Thornton's bill," she said.

Practically every able lawyer in Northern Virginia thinks that the State will recover the will.

There is much feeling among Virginians against Mr. Morgan for his attitude toward the will. The people condemn the elder Morgan for not responding to the request for the return of the will and the present Mr. Morgan for keeping the will when he knows how it disappeared.

GREAT STRIKE CALLED.

Railroad Men Fail to Respond to Orders of Their Leaders.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Jan. 9.—The response this morning to the call for a general railroad strike throughout the Union of South Africa was not encouraging to the leaders of the movement.

In Cape Colony, Natal and the Orange Free State all the men continued at work, as usual, while in the Transvaal the train crews, with few exceptions remained on duty. The men in the railroad workshops, however, mostly laid down their tools.

The police took charge of all railroad stations in the Transvaal this morning and only passengers and officials were admitted, while the train crews were placed under protection.

FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS,

New Orleans, La., Jan. 9.—Fire early today destroyed the plants of the International Distilling Company and the United States Industrial Alcohol Company with a loss estimated at $1,000,000.

The blaze was spectacular as one alcohol tank after another exploded, throwing the blazing spirits high in the air.

Firemen were helpless and concentrated their effors on keeping the fire from spreading.

November 3, 1913.

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,
Steward's Business College.
Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am

Most sincerely yours, R. P. ANDREWS,

Szechenyi Makes Denial.

New York, Jan. 9.—Count Laszio Szechenyi, who married Gladys Vanderbilt, makes vigorous denial of the report that he is a sympathizer with any movement of the Hungarian revolutionary party looking to a secession of Hungary from the Austrian Empire.

The count has written as follows:

"I can state with absolute positiveness that there is no revolutionary plot or party in Hungary, and that I am connected with no such movement. I am not only a loyal subject but also an officer in the Austro-Hungarian army and a chamberlain to the emperor and king."

The statement that Count Szechenyi was interested in a revolutionary plot emimated from Washington recently. An investigation of the report shows that the statement of the count that he is not interested in any revolutionary movement is entirely correct.

MUST EAT WIFE'S COOKING.

Make No Complaint For Year to Escape 200-Day Sentence.

St. Louis, Jan. 9.—Benjamin Fusari, of Belleville, pledged himself to Police Magistrate Underwood to eat Mrs Fusari's cooking for one year without criticism rather than serve out a $200 fine, which would have meant 200 days in jail.

Fusari went home in an angry mood. His wife had stewed rabbit, which he announced as too plebian. He threw the savory dish out of the window, and Mrs. Fusari hastened to Underwood's court and swore out a warrant.

After Mrs. Fusari had testified against her husband, she pleaded for him. She said he was a good husband, did not drink and never abused her, but that he was too finicky about his food.

Fusari gladly assented to the court's suggestion that he take an "anti-grouch pledge" for the new year and eat what his wife prepared for him, whether it was stewed rabbit or capon en casserole.

ANGRY AT HIS RESURRECTION.

Supposed Dead Man Startles Undertaker by Rebuke.

California, Pa., Jan. 9.—The body of Frank Dufour, a miner of this city, who started out three nights ago for Charleroi, was found Tuesday morning lying in a clump of bushes near here. Life was apparently extinct and the attending physician announced that Dufour had died from exposure.

The "lifeless" body of Dufour was sent Wednesday morning to the undertaking rooms of Samuel Henderson, who was to prepare it for interment tomorrow. As Henderson was about to begin the embalming process, he was startled to see Dufour roll over and open his eyes.

Henderson was given another shock when the "dead" man demanded to know "why they had awakened him."

Later Dufour was fully revived and will recover.

DYING FROM BICHLORIDE.

Norfolk Tobacco Salesman Swallows Eight Tablets And Pleads for Life.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 9.—Suffering from bichloride of mercury poisoning, James W. MacRae, twenty-four years old, a tobacco salesman, formerly of Norfolk, Va., is dying at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The hospital physicians have given up hope of saving the young man's life.

MacRae swallowed eight mercury tablets on Sunday and Monday, and was taken to the hospital late Monday afternoon. It is said that MacRae took the tablets with suicidal intent, but today he pleaded with the physicians to save his life.

"If people believe that mercury poison is an easy death," said Dr. W. T. Riley, visiting physician at St. Joseph's "they are grossly mistaken. If prospective suicides could see MacRae suffering I think they would be cured of this mania. Mercury is one of the most horrible forms of death."

PASTOR AS ACTOR.

Preacher to Have Real Stage Setting in Effort to Swell Church Attendance.

Boston, Jan. 9.—One of the prettiest innovations in sermons ever tried in a pulpit is to be started by the Rev. Austen T. Kempton of the Broadway Baptist Church, Cambridge—a series of drama sermons in which the pastor, instead of giving an exhortation, will produce a drama with stage settings, taking all the parts himself.

With the setting of a physician's office instead of the usual fittings of his pulpit, the Rev. Kempton will preach his drama, "A Fight for Life."

To the training in college theatricals he has added the proficiency in character portrayal secured from a skilled elocutionist in preparation for his new kind of sermon. Aided by his wife the pastor has worked up a number of plots the morals of which are obvious.

Cambridge churches have been suffering from slight attendance at Sunday night services, and it is recognized that something must be done to remedy conditions.
